

AAPMA approved coastal life jackets in “as new” condition. Were purchased for a commercial passenger vessel in survey and stored on board for approximately 2 years. Since then, they have been in dry storage at my house. Each jacket is wrapped in an individual plastic bag.

None of them has ever been worn or used.

The only mark on th fabric of each jacket is the registration number of the boat. This has been crossed out and no longer readable. It doesn't affect future use of the jacket.

Each jacket comes with retro reflective tape on front and back, as well as a whistle.

Apparently 50 life jackets in total available.
